BROADWAY THEATER.

Under Southern Skies. Few plays of recent years have se-cured such a strong hold upon public favor as has Under Southern Skies, which comes to the Broadway theater on Thursday, March 17, matinee and night, for the first time this season. The play is well remembered here from ast season, the impression it then left being most favorable. Since it has been seen here Under Southern Skies heen seen here Under Southern Skies has appeared in many cities and always to large and enthusiastic audiences. Its reputation is now so well established that it has become almost unnecessary to print any encomiums of the play and production, the mere announcement of the coming of the atannouncement of the coming of the at-traction being all that is necessary to draw a crowded house. This wonder-ful popularity is not hard to account for, for there is not a dull or uninter-esting moment from the rise of the curtain until its fall. Almost the en-tire first and second acts are filled with life, gayety and fun.

LOVERS' 'PHONE. Ingenious Invention Aids Swains in

Higganum.

Undoubtedly one of the most popular inventions, especially with the young folks, writes the Higganum correspondent of the Middletown Sun, is a new 'phone which has been invented by a party in this place. It is called the "lovers' 'phone." At first it has the appearance of a regular 'phone, but upon a close investigation one sees a little clock, a calendar and a record producer and a little attachment that produces the pleture of the person with whom you are conversing. The clock gives one the time, the calendar registers the time the date is made, the rec-Higganum. gives one the time, the calendar regis-ters the time the date is made, the rec-ord records the conversation, and the camera produces the picture of your best girl. The instrument is certain to become a favorite at once, as it is inexpensive and avoids a "butt in" or a long wait for someone on the regular below with urgent husbress to transact, and has to wait for a baking to be act, and has to wait for a baking to be done, or a visit made, or a fellow and his girl to rehearse the events of the previous evening or some future engagement. The record produced will also prove useful in case of a breach of promise suit, or maybe a divorce case. Then again, if the young people are too bashful to spark, the batteries

MODEL SCHOOL Favored by Supt. F. H. Beede for New Haven-To Cost $100,000.

The recommendation of Secretary Hine of the state board of education in favor of the erection of a model school in New Haven, says the Union, is generally approved in local educa-tional circles. Secretary Hine's state-ment was made at the meeting of the New Haven board of education Friday evening.

Superintendent Beede, when asked about the plan of the secretary, said:

"This plan is to give another model training school for the instruction of the training teachers from the normal school in this city. The state has a model school in New Britain and another in Williamntic and one at Danbury. It would be a very good thing to have one here, too. If built, it probably would be on the grounds of the present normal school. Such a building would provide for 500 pupils, Nothing can be done until the meeting of the general assembly. The cost of such a building would reach nearly $100,006. The matter will doubtless be taken up The matter will doubtless be taken up by the board of education."

LITCHFIELD SPELLING BEES. Revival of Old Time Custom Up in the Hills.

There seems to be a revival of the spelling match fad in Litchfield coun-ty. Local contests have been held in numerous places this winter, and now plans are afoot for a grand match for the championship of the county, to be held at Torrington some time in April. Meanwhile teams will be picked out by competition in the various village granges, societies, etc., and these will engage in mutual extinguishment in the grand event wherein the last indithe grand event wherein the last indi-vidual survivor is to be crowned with championship honors. A good deal of social entertainment and not a little educational benefit is got in this way.

Why Hats?

A coterie of advanced young women in St. Louis have undertaken to reform in St. Louis have undertaken to reform their sisters at a point which is in sore need of reform. It is their purpose to impress upon femininity in general that the latest styles in headgear are insupportable—not physically of course, because women would find it possible to support on their thought domes a firkin of butter, if fashion so decreed.

domes a firkin of butter, if fashion so decreed.

Mere man, to be sure, is not informed as to the latest edicts of fashion with regard to his better fraction's top piece. All he knows and all he cares to know is that when the bills come in for the Easter creations, they will be pienty large enough. But if the things to be balanced on femininity's head are anything like those that are now being juggled about, mere man will welcome anything that resembles reform. They are certainly awesome creations and creations is the only word that fittingly describes them. No doubt the limit has been reached, when women themselves begin to revolt. Let it be hoped that the pendulum will swing so far the other way that the fair sex will eventually discard hats altogether. If woman's glory is her hair, as some enthusiast has remarked, let her display it unencumbered, unpuffed and unratted.—Pittsburg Post.

Waterbury May Be Sued by the State City Clerk W. H. Sandland of Water-City Clerk W. H. Sandland of Water-bury is in receipt of a communication from State Treasurer Patten stating that the city will have to pay the in-terest due on the state tax and that in case this part of the obligation is not satisfied he shall feel compelled to bring suit to collect it, the attorney general having informed him that it would be his duty. ## FOETRY,

THE TRAIN.

I wake to feel that rain
Is falling; though no beat
From drops upon the pane
Speaks of it. But so aweet
Have grown the Illao flowers,
I know that drifting showers
Are in my garden bowers.

No sound. Till, clear and plain
As though the dusk would sigh,
The whistle of a train
Brings to me where I lie,
The old, heart-breaking call
Of distances, and all
Fair fates that elsewhere fall,

Oh, to be in that chain
Of golden-lighted cars!
Through misty field and lane,
Quick stringing lines of stars!
On! Onward! Till the night,
Rimmed by the dawn's first light,
Finds cities, strange and white.

Yet all would be in vain!

Some spring night I should wake
To hear the falling rain;
And then my heart would break
To think that drifting showers
Are sweetening lilac flowers
Here in my garden bowers.

—Rhoda Hero Dunn.

THE OLD BROWN COAT.

The earth is looking shabby now,
The old brown coat it wears
Is faded with the snows and rains,
And full of rips and tears.
The seams in places here and there
Betray a patch of white,
And half a dozen ragged holes
Are gaping into sight.

But March before the windy of She loves so well to wield,
Is making dust and debris fly
From garden, street and field,
And often pauses as she sweeps
The town and country clean.
To mend the tattered coat of brown
With little threads of green.
—Minna Irving.
